FIRST CLUE — The body of Sue Martin, 11, right, has been found floating in the Columbia river near Portland, Ore. Sue, along with her two sisters, Barbara, 14, and Virginia, 13, and her parents have been missing since 1958. Discovery of Sue's body is the first tangible clue as to the whereabouts of the family since their mysterious disappearance early in December, 1958, to cut Christmas greens. — NEA Telephoto

Little Rock School Board Deadlocked in First Try to Renew Contracts of Teachers

Court Delays Enforcement Affidavit Law

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Enforcement of a controversial state teacher affidavit law was blocked yesterday by a federal court restraining order.

The order, preventing school boards from applying the law, was issued by Circuit Judge John E. Miller of St. Paul, Minn., and U. S. District Judge John E. Miller of Portland, Ore., on request of attorneys for B. T. Shelton, a Little Rock Negro teacher, and others who filed suit to federal court challenging the constitutionality of the two acts.

The laws are Act 10 of 1958, and Act 115 of 1959. The first requires teachers to file affidavits listing organizations they have belonged to or contributed to in the past five years. The second bars public agencies and school districts from employing members of the NAACP.

The Little Rock School Board scheduled a meeting for today to consider renewal of teacher contracts. The order prevents it from using the affidavits.

Shelton and J. O. Powell, assistant principal for boys at Central High School, have refused to sign the documents, although Powell disclosed organizations he is affiliated with.

The order was directed at the Little Rock and Pine Bluff school boards and the Board of Trustees of Arkansas A.M.N. College, a Negro institution at Pine Bluff. But it included "all other school boards of Arkansas similarly situated."

J. B. Boker of Little Rock, one of four Negro attorneys for plaintiffs in the suit, said the court would be asked on May 13 to extend the order another 10 days, and then a temporary injunction would be sought to keep until the case could be tried on its merits.

Besides Shelton, the plaintiff is the Arkansas Teachers Assn., a Negro group, and its executive secretary.

At Fayetteville, Dr. E. Phillip Trapp, spokesman for a group of professors who plan legal action to test Act 10, said he was "very glad" to learn of the order.

Lions All Set for Broom Sale This Week

Arthur Wimmell, program chairman, introduced Tom Silvey, president of the Southwest Arkansas Poultry Assn., who spoke on the efforts of the broiler growers to organize into an effective marketing group and how the businessmen of this area can help.

Final plans for the annual broom sale were formulated and is to be held this Thursday and Friday beginning at 6 p.m.

Jack Shaw of Texarkana and Joe Jones, were guests of the club.

British Doctor Ends Life of Cancer Patient

BURTON-ON-TRENT, England (AP)—A doctor disclosed publicly Monday that he gave a lethal drug to a suffering cancer patient, and gently ended her life as she had asked him.

Dr. Maurice Millard, 58, told the story of the mercy killing to a Rotary Club meeting.

"I did it on compassionate grounds and would do the same again under similar conditions," Millard said.

He gave this account:

It happened some years back. The patient, a devout Christian woman, once had asked him that in the event she contracted an incurable disease would he give her a drug to put her to sleep.

The woman was fit and well at the time. But some later what the woman feared did happen. Surgery showed cancer was killing her.

She asked Millard to give her the drug.

"What was I to do?" Millard said. "The woman was in pain. She had only a week to live. A strong feeling of compassion came over me and I gave her the drug. She went into a coma and passed peacefully away."

The British Medical Assn. opposes strongly any move to legalize euthanasia—the mercy killing of hopeless, incurable, criminals, the old, and the incurably ill.

"But the association does feel that it is up to a doctor's own conscience to decide whether to alleviate suffering in the last stages of an illness," said a BMA spokesman.

Annual Music Festival Is Planned Here

Sunday marks the beginning of the 38th observance of National Music Week, sponsored in Hope by the Friday Music Club, the Music Makers and the Troubadours.

On Thursday, the annual music festival will be presented in Hammond Stadium at 7:30. This is a joint program of the music clubs and the music departments of all schools of the city.

A miscellaneous program has been planned using the theme "Let There Be Music."

Choruses from Oglesby, Paisley and Gayland Schools will be heard in patriotic songs and popular favorites and Brookwood School will present a May Day routine.

The Junior High School Glee Club will present a group of spring songs and the High School Band under Director Jon Barbaratto will join the High School Glee Club in a Victor Herbert Medley, in celebration of the 100th birthday of the king of operetta.

Mrs. B. C. Hyatt is director of the festival.

Tabernacle to Have a Special Speaker

Reverend Hazen C. McDonald of Springfield, Mo., will speak at the local Tabernacle, Wednesday, May 6 at 7:30 p.m.

Rev. McDonald for years was pastor of two East Coast Baptist churches and also served as field representative for the Gordon School of Theology and Missions of Boston.

The public is invited to hear Rev. McDonald who will be in Hope for one night only.

Crippled Boy Beaten by Father Is Critical

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A 20-month-old crippled boy, victim of an alleged beating by his father because he wouldn't stand up, was reported still in serious condition by attendants at Arkansas Children's Hospital today.

The blond child, Jerry Dale Davidson, suffered a brain injury and fractured skull April 26. His father, Dale Davidson, 32, of near Yellville, was jailed at Yellville on an open charge pending outcome of the child's condition.

Jerry who is paralyzed from the waist down as the result of an injury at birth.

Davidson told police her husband struck the boy because he wouldn't stand up by himself, and officers said Davidson admitted hitting the child "a few times."

Hydrogen Halo Around Earth Harmless

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The earth is surrounded by a harmless halo of hydrogen at altitudes between 50 and 20,000 miles, a California scientist reported today.

Another researcher said a known weak spot in the earth's magnetic field may account for the gap between two dangerous doughnuts of radiation discovered in space.

These separate phenomena were described to the annual meeting of the American Geophysical Union in reports prepared by scientists of the Lockheed Missiles and Space Division, Sunnyvale, California.

Dr. Francis A. Johnson told of the hydrogen halo, which he described as a glowing veil.

He said it is a cloud of hydrogen gas made up of electrically neutral atoms of the chemical.

Its existence became known from radiation detectors aboard satellites and missiles.

"Though it has a certain glow," he related, "it cannot be detected from the earth's surface because the radiation is absorbed in the earth's atmosphere at an altitude of about 50 miles."

Dr. Alexander J. Dessler of Lockheed offered the new theory to explain the gap between the two belts of Van Allen radiation which encircle the earth. They are considered potentially hazardous to space travel.

These two belts—named for Dr. James Van Allen of the State University of Iowa—hang suspended like monster doughnuts around the earth, but with openings above both the north and south polar regions.

The first belt begins at about 1,300 miles altitude and extends to about 3,000.

Then there's a 5,000-mile gap before the second belt begins at about 8,000 miles.

Dessler believes the 5,000-mile radiation-free gap between the two doughnuts is due to the Cap-town anomaly. That is a weak spot, approximately 1,000 miles long and 300 miles wide, in the earth's magnetic field near the southern tip of Africa.

Parents, Four Children Drown

HEYWORTH, Ill. (AP)—An after school boat outing on a flooded gravel pit turned to tragedy Monday when the craft capsized and a Heyworth couple and four of their children drowned.

A fisherman who heard screams for help rescued a fifth child. He thought he had saved another, but she was dead when he reached shore.

Another child, 12, watched the scene from shore.

The victims were Lawrence Bradley, 35, a factory worker; his wife, Betty, 33; and four of their children, Laura Jean, 3, Deborah, 7, Danny, 4, and Florence, 2.

Skin divers and firemen recovered all the bodies but that of Florence. Fire pump trucks from surrounding communities began draining the five-acre pit in the search for the little girl's body.

Pulled to safety by the fisherman, Carl Wunder, a machinist, was Susie, 6, Bonnie, 12, watched from shore.

McLean County authorities said they had not determined the cause of the accident, but a state trooper loaded the small craft was overloaded.

Two other daughters survived. They are Sharon, 14, and Rose Mondrell, 16.

Mrs. Stella Hervey, 75, Succumbs to a Long Illness

Mrs. Stella Hervey, aged 75, died Monday after a long illness. Mrs. Hervey was a lifelong resident of Hope and a member of the First Baptist Church.

Survivors include a sister, Mrs. C. F. Houston Sr. of Hope and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p.m. Tuesday in Herndon-Corbell Chapel by Dr. John McClanahan. Burial will be in Rose Hill Cemetery.

President Pleads For Good Sense in Steel Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today called on steel negotiators to show good sense and statesmanship lest they set off another inflationary surge.

He said the American people couldn't stand idly by and let themselves get hurt.

This suggestion that a new wage-price spiral could force government intervention came at a news conference at which Eisenhower also said:

1. A summit conference will be a foregone conclusion if the foreign ministers' conference beginning next week opens the way to easing East-West tensions.

2. He regards Lewis Strauss as a valuable public servant of the utmost integrity and feels a low point will be reached if personal antagonisms by senators defeat Strauss' nomination to be secretary of commerce.

In speaking of a possible summit conference, Eisenhower said once again that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is the only man who can deal authoritatively for the Soviet Union.

By NORMAN WALKER

NEW YORK (AP)—Steel industry labor negotiations started formally today with only two months to go before a scheduled July 1 strike deadline.

Negotiating teams from U.S. Steel Corp. and the United Steelworkers Union sat down together in the Roosevelt Hotel. Talks also were due to start there today with Bethlehem, Republic and Kaiser steel companies.

Eight other sets of talks begin Wednesday and Thursday with other top industry firms. Present contracts expire June 30.

Neither R. Conrad Cooper, chief U.S. Steel negotiator, nor President David A. McDonald of the union had any comment.

The industry is standing firm against any new concessions to the union, warning they would be inflationary. On the other hand, the union is demanding a bigger share of industry profits, including a wage boost, shorter hours, pension and other improvements.

The U.S. Steel part of the negotiations found nearly 100 union negotiators pitted across a long bargaining table with nearly as many U.S. Steel representatives.

Both sides have expressed hope the strike can be avoided, and pledged to work toward that end.

McDonald was optimistic over the chances for union gains, even before the talks began.

Body of Lynch Victim Taken From a River

BOGALUSA, La. (AP)—Two peace officers dragged the body of Mack Charles Parker, the Poplarville, Miss., lynch victim, from the receding waters of the Pearl River near Bogalusa Monday.

The FBI in Washington announced identification of the bleached body.

The gruesome discovery by an FBI agent and a Mississippi highway patrolman, plucked down the fate of the 23-year-old Negro, charged with the rape of a pregnant white woman.

It didn't lead officers any closer to kidnapping Parker from his jail cell in Poplarville on April 25, two days before his trial was scheduled to start.

The FBI agent and his companion spotted the head, one arm and a shoulder above the water line in a drift three miles south of the Poplarville-Bogalusa bridge across the Pearl River.

The night raiders who dragged Parker from the Poplarville jail by his heels stripped Parker of all his clothes except an undershirt and a pair of shorts.

The coroner at Bogalusa's Charity Hospital did not say how Parker was killed, except to report a head spot on the right side of the head.

No one attempted to estimate how long the body had been in the water.

A gang of eight or 10 men wearing masks and white gloves broke into the Poplarville jail, about 20 miles from here, shortly after midnight April 25, savagely beat Parker, dragged him screaming down the steps from his third-story cell and threw him into a waiting car.

Fellow prisoners said he yelled he was innocent as the men took him from the jail.

Warrants charging the mob with kidnapping are filed but Pearl River County, Miss., officials said new charges had been filed against the men.

The rape Parker was accused of occurred Feb. 25 near Lumberton, Miss. The victim and her 5-year-old daughter were sitting in a stalled car waiting for her husband to return with help.

She said a Negro in a black automobile drove up, threatened her with a gun, forced her and the child to get into his car and drove them into a wooded area where he raped her as the child watched.

The 24-year-old woman later picked Parker from a 25-man lineup.

Officers had believed from the first that Parker's body probably would be found in the Pearl River or one of the streams in the area.

Special FBI agent Ralph Bachman and Bill Hood, chief of the Mississippi Highway Patrol, directed the search.

Last week officers flew up and down the river in the hunt for some trace of Parker. Monday for the first time, they used skills.

"We apparently hit it just right after the water had fallen," Bachman said.

Another searcher said the body possibly would not have been visible as late as Sunday. High water had covered the area for several days.

Russian Tests Release More Fission

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission said today Russian nuclear tests released more fission products into the atmosphere in the last two years than did tests by the United States and Great Britain combined.

This report was given a congressional hearing by Dr. Charles L. Dunham, director of the AEC's division of biology and medicine. He presented figures which he said heretofore had been classed as secret.

The figures listed the fission yields of Russian tests in 1957 and 1958 as 21,000 kilotons as compared with 19,000 for U.S. and British nuclear explosions.

A kiloton is 1,000 tons.

Rep. Chet Hoffield (D-Calif.), chairman of the Senate House Atomic Energy subcommittee, conducting the hearings, commented that eminent scientists had testified in 1957 that the maximum amount of fission products that should be released into the atmosphere in a year was 10,000 kilotons.

An AEC aide said the Russian tests were "extremely dirty" that is, they produced a high degree of radioactive debris.

Dunham said there are some estimates that the radiation-charged debris already released may cause 3,500 to 7,000 additional bone cancer cases in 70 years.

But the scientist quickly qualified his figures.

He said they only represented findings under "one current theory" and "of course there may be no additional cases at all."

Dunham's summation was a sample of the big reason for holding the hearings. Scientists disagree among themselves on just how much fallout there is, and on what menace it presents.

Virginia Law Tossed Out by U. S. Court

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—The U. S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals today threw out the seven-year school integration moratorium in Prince Edward County. It ordered the county to consider the admission of qualified Negroes to white schools in September.

The decision set aside U.S. District Judge Sterling Hutcheson's 1950 ruling giving Prince Edward until 1959 to move toward classroom race mixing.

The Appeals Court sent the case back to Hutcheson with directions to issue an order forbidding the school authorities to take any action affecting the enrollment or education of Negro children on the basis of race.

The Appeals Court order required that the school board to prepare for September admission of Negro high school applicants and to plan for elementary school desegregation at the earliest practical dates.

Declares Ike, If Ministers Can Ease Tension

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today said a summit conference will be a foregone conclusion if the foreign ministers' conference beginning next week opens the way to easing East-West tensions.

He said the American people couldn't stand idly by and let themselves get hurt.

This suggestion that a new wage-price spiral could force government intervention came at a news conference at which Eisenhower also said:

1. A summit conference will be a foregone conclusion if the foreign ministers' conference beginning next week opens the way to easing East-West tensions.

2. He regards Lewis Strauss as a valuable public servant of the utmost integrity and feels a low point will be reached if personal antagonisms by senators defeat Strauss' nomination to be secretary of commerce.

In speaking of a possible summit conference, Eisenhower said once again that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is the only man who can deal authoritatively for the Soviet Union.

NEW YORK (AP)—Steel industry labor negotiations started formally today with only two months to go before a scheduled July 1 strike deadline.

Negotiating teams from U.S. Steel Corp. and the United Steelworkers Union sat down together in the Roosevelt Hotel. Talks also were due to start there today with Bethlehem, Republic and Kaiser steel companies.

Eight other sets of talks begin Wednesday and Thursday with other top industry firms. Present contracts expire June 30.

Neither R. Conrad Cooper, chief U.S. Steel negotiator, nor President David A. McDonald of the union had any comment.

The industry is standing firm against any new concessions to the union, warning they would be inflationary. On the other hand, the union is demanding a bigger share of industry profits, including a wage boost, shorter hours, pension and other improvements.

The U.S. Steel part of the negotiations found nearly 100 union negotiators pitted across a long bargaining table with nearly as many U.S. Steel representatives.

Both sides have expressed hope the strike can be avoided, and pledged to work toward that end.

McDonald was optimistic over the chances for union gains, even before the talks began.

this specific invitation to Truman. He said the reporter who brought up the matter was getting into a personal field.

Politics — The President said he hopes the 1960 Republican presidential nominee will win even more votes in Southern states than he did in 1952 and 1956.

He had been asked whether he thought Vice President Nixon or New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller could do as well as Eisenhower did in the South.

The President laughed off a round of laughter by asking the reporter whether he had any candidates other than Nixon and Rockefeller. There are other possible GOP candidates, Eisenhower said.

Foreign aid — The President plugged anew for the administration's $3,950,000,000 foreign aid program. He brought up that subject himself, and noted that hearings on the program are getting under way before congressional committees.

The program, he said, is deserving of real support by every one who is concerned with national

Open Forum Challenges Affidavit Law

FAVETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — An open forum on Act 10 of 1958, a teacher affidavit law challenged by a group of professors at the University of Arkansas, was held on the university campus last night.

The law was assailed by several faculty members while another urged compliance with it and a student rose to its defense.

E. Phillip Trapp of the English Department, president of the university chapter of the American Assn. of University Professors, said:

"If necessary, we'll ask the highest court in the land to rule on its constitutionality."

Trapp and other professors have announced they will file suit to test the law. They have been joined in the fight by professors at Arkansas Tech in Russellville.

The law requires educators to file affidavits listing organizations with which they were affiliated or helped financially in a five-year period.

all security. It is not a partisan program, he added, but is based rather on "logic and good sense."

Approval of the program, Eisenhower went on, would contribute to the free world's battle to lessen international tensions and would mean some advancement toward peace.

Eisenhower was told there is some belief that too much of the program is being cut down by Congress.

He also said a large portion of the military aid goes to help hold such places as Korea and Formosa.

Eisenhower also noted that a study committee he appointed had recommended that more money be set aside for military aid abroad.

Kidnaper-Escapees to Be Arraigned

MAVERICK, Ark. (AP) — Two convicts who escaped from office and then abducted two high school students last Friday were scheduled to be arraigned here this afternoon.

Robert Geary, 32, and Robert Rainwater, 27, face new charges of kidnaping and robbery.

If they plead guilty, they presumably will be sentenced immediately, otherwise their cases will be set for trial.

The two were being escorted to the State Prison farm when they escaped from two Polk County officers taking a pistol from Deputy Sheriff Marvin Furr.

Then they abducted teenagers Joe Hicks and Johnny Payne of Fawn in the youths' automobile. The boys escaped when the automobile ran out of gasoline, and Geary and Rainwater were soon recaptured.

No one was injured.

Geary already is under a five-year sentence for car theft. Rainwater, under a seven-year sentence for forgery.

Truck Dump Bed Kills a Worker

SCOTT, Ark. (AP) — A Negro farm worker was killed last night when the raised bed of a dump truck fell on him as he checked the hoisting mechanism.

Louis Johnson, 42, of near Scott,

Marlaine said he was for the act. He said he had noticed that feeling "at home" also was in favor of the measure.

Gentry said he felt that "fear of reprisals" from teachers kept students from speaking out for the act.

About 350 persons attended the forum, held in the Student Union building.

Prof. Dale Hinkle of the Agronomy Department called the law "useless and ineffective" but said he thought teachers should comply with it.

"In this protest, I foresee a very real possibility of generating a verse opinion in the state," he said.

About 500 reportedly was collected yesterday to aid in the legal battle against the act. Donations were placed in a jar in the union building.

UA Students Name New President

FAVETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Allen Berry, Sugg of Helena has been elected president of the Associated Students at the University of Arkansas.

He defeated Jack Dale Files, Hunter by 1,361 to 1,296 in a runoff.

Other student government officers include Robert Fussell of Forrest City, vice president; Louise Wilcox of Shreveport, La., secretary; and Ray Waters of Texas, treasurer.

7 PROVEN FACTS

that will help you make the best mattress buy!

MORE PEOPLE SLEEP ON BEAUTYREST THAN ON ANY OTHER MATTRESS! So when you buy Beautyrest you know you're getting the mattress that has proven itself best for comfort and rest. In other mattresses springs sag together under your weight. Each Beautyrest spring works separately, independently from every other one.

ONLY BEAUTYREST HAS SEPARATE BACK SUPPORTING SPRINGS THAT PUSH UP IN THE SMALL OF YOUR BACK. This is the kind of restful support that is designed to end backache. Only Beautyrest has separate springs to fit the curve of your back. And because it has buoyant firmness, Beautyrest will not rob you of comfort and sleep—as do so many so-called posture mattresses.

IN A SERIES OF DURABILITY TESTS BEAUTYREST WAS PROVEN TO LAST 3 TIMES AS LONG AS THE NEXT BEST MATTRESS TESTED BY THE UNITED STATES TESTING COMPANY. So if you're out to save money, it pays to insist on longer-lasting Beautyrest. In the long run, the best actually costs the least. Important to know with many so-called "Bargain Buys" on the market today.

IN 60,000,000 SLEEP RECORDINGS MADE UNDER THE SUPERVISION OF THE SLEEP RESEARCH FOUNDATION, BEAUTYREST WAS PROVEN TO GIVE MORE DEEP SLEEP THAN ANY OF THE OTHER LEADING MATTRESSES TESTED. The more deep sleep you get, the more refreshed you are in the morning. That's why, when you buy Beautyrest—you're assured of maximum healthful rest.

ONLY BEAUTYREST GIVES SINGLE-BED COMFORT IN A DOUBLE BED BECAUSE ONLY BEAUTYREST HAS SEPARATE SPRINGS FOR EACH SLEEPER! Beautyrest's springs are separate and independent. Press down on one Beautyrest spring and others are not affected. No rolling together. The heaviest husband cannot disturb his wife's rest.

THE PRESIDENT OF SHERATON HOTELS SAYS: "With 49 of America's leading hotels, we pride ourselves on hospitality and comfort. Beautyrest is the only mattress we now buy." And Beautyrest is the only mattress that has passed the minimum performance standards of the American Hotel Association.

BEAUTYREST PROTECTS YOU, THE SHOPPER. As stated by Grant Simmons, Jr., President of Simmons Company: "Beautyrest is never offered with an artificial, inflated price. Others do this continually. The advertised price is slashed down to the actual price of the mattress as a 'come-on.' Beautyrest always means what it says—and it gives you $79.50 value for $79.50!"

Try A Beautyrest In Your Own Home...

Sleep on it for 30 nights. If you're not convinced it's the finest mattress you ever owned, your guest trial won't cost a single cent. Come in today, arrange to be our guest for 30 nights of buoyant, heavenly sleeping comfort on a Beautyrest Mattress, made only by Simmons.

THIS, TOO, IS TEXAS EASTERN

Our Pipeline Crews Start Their Spring Cleaning Early

In the northern reaches of the 6100-mile Texas Eastern gas transmission system winter is only now reluctantly laying aside its mantle of snow.

But to the South—down Texas and Louisiana way—maintenance crews of our Pipeline Department weeks ago started the Spring clean-up.

There's painting of our above-ground facilities. And with the winter run-off doing its mischief, there'll be washes to repair, clearing, terracing, seeding to do. In due time—moving.

Maintenance, of course, is a round-the-clock, round-the-calendar job. And policing the right-of-way is only part of it. Inside and under cover there's work, too. For efficient operation and delivery of clean gas, the pipes have to be whistle-clean inside.

We keep them that way by running scrapers—or "pigs"—right along with the gas... cleaning, and removing fluid from the line, without cutting down the flow of gas.

Maintenance is not the only function of the Pipeline Department. Repairs—even some major construction—are on the list of department responsibilities.

And—coordinating with the Right-of-Way Department—our Pipeline men keep a sharp eye on developments adjacent to our lines; new construction, utility lines, highways, mining—things that might affect our operations.

All this takes manpower. It is the men of our pipeline crews—organized and stationed at strategic locations within the Company's six operating divisions—who accomplish it. Any part of the system may be reached by a maintenance crew in a short length of time.

It's an important thing—this maintenance function. On it rests our ability to deliver the goods. And when the goods are a vital commodity like natural gas, delivery cannot be a sometime thing. Our clients—utility companies in Midwestern, Appalachian and Eastern Seaboard states—depend on us for delivery of gas in the quantity and of the quality ordered.

This is one of a series of monthly reports on the diversified activities of Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Jones Weds John David Whitlow
Of interest to many local people was the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Jones to John David Whitlow at the 2nd Baptist Church of Little Rock on Saturday, May 2. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John William Jones of Little Rock and the bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Stephen Andrew Whitlow of Little Rock, formerly of Hope.

Dr. Whitlow performed the ceremony which united his son and Miss Jones. Like the other attendants, the flower girl, Little Miss Becky Moore, was attired in blue and white. She is a niece of the bridegroom.

Members of the wedding party from Hope also included Bill Blake, who served the bridegroom as best man. Frank Horton, who was a groomsmen; Jewell Moore, Jr., an usher who is the brother-in-law of the bridegroom; and Mrs. Jewell Moore, Jr., sister of the bridegroom who poured the punch at the reception which followed the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitlow will make their home in Ft. Benning, Ga., where he is stationed with the U. S. Army.

Wedding guests from Hope included Mrs. E. M. Horton, Mrs. Jim McKenzie, Mrs. P. L. Perkins, Mrs. Perry Moses, Mrs. Sarah Moses, Mrs. Cecil O'Steen, and Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Bates.

Proclamation

WHEREAS, of all the arts devised by man to express the human mind and its senses, music has certainly brought more happiness and satisfaction to more people than any other; and

WHEREAS, the history of music is a part of the history of civilization itself; and

WHEREAS, many organizations are active in giving special programs designed to make the public more conscious of the value of music to the community and to the individual citizen; and to aid the progress of musical education for both young people and adults; culminating in Hope with the Music Festival, Thursday evening, May 7, 1959, sponsored by the Friday Music Club of Hope;

THEREFORE, I, George T. Frazier, Mayor of Hope, Arkansas do hereby proclaim the week of May 3-10 National Music Week and urge all citizens to recognize the basic aims of Music Week, to advance the love of music and to impress upon the public consciousness the value of music in modern life.

Youth Drowns While Wading at Rogers

ROGERS, Ark. (AP) — Larry Dossan, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dossan of Rogers, drowned Sunday while wading in a pond about a mile south of here.

Two companions, who were wading with the boy when he stayed in a hole, reached the opposite bank, police said.

Leader, Mrs. R. T. White presided over the business session at which time she expressed her appreciation for the splendid cooperation the members had given her in the past two years.

A letter from Miss Noren Robben, who is a missionary, in Africa was read. A contribution to un-directed missions was given, honoring the leader, Mrs. White, as a token of the fine work she has done as chairman of the circle. Her faithful & efficient service has been greatly appreciated by the members.

The presentation of this fund was made by Mrs. Edwin Ward. A most inspiring devotion from Galatians 4-2-9 was given by Mrs. Weir Owens.

This was concluded with prayer. Mrs. R. E. Hooks gave a most interesting talk on the "Parables of the W.I.S.C.S." The meeting closed with the hymn, "Blessed Be The Tie." A most delightful dessert plate was served to 20 members and 1 guest.

Circle No. 4 of First Methodist Church Met in Home
Fidels Class Room
The WCSO Circle No. 4 of First Methodist Church met Monday, May 4 at 3 p.m. in the Fidels Classroom at the church for their last meeting of the church year. Mrs. Cecil Weaver, Mrs. H. E. Thornton and Mrs. W. C. Miller were hostesses.

Everyone enjoyed an informal fellowship hour. Mrs. E. P. O'Neal conducted a short program.

Mrs. Ralph Routon voiced the closing prayer. Refreshments of strawberries, cake and ice cream were served to 15 members.

Coming and Going

Dr. F. C. Crow, Piney Woods District chairman, Boy Scouts of America, Royce Weisenberger, a council member of the executive board and Leonard Graham of Prescott, district field executive, attended a commissioners' staff meeting of the Caddo Council Area held at Camp Pioneer near Mena over the weekend. At the same time, the Spring Arrowee was held there and Jerry O'Neal, Johnny Schooley and Roy Allison attended it.

DOROTHY DIX

M. D.'s Charm Treatment Doesn't Prescribe Love

Dear Dorothy Dix: A few months ago I became a patient at a clinic in town. The doctor assigned to my case was a very understanding person with a charming personality. Now, he's been transferred to another part of the hospital and I think I'm in love with him. He gave me no encouragement. Do you think I have a chance with him? I need this love very much. — N. W.

Dear N. W.: A doctor's success with his patients lies in his understanding of them, his interest and his charm. He treats them all alike and if they are susceptible to a doctor's charm, many of them fall in love with him. Yearning for his love is a completely futile emotion. He may be married or engaged. Almost certainly he has a girl and isn't interested in switching. This is a case of hero worship, pure and simple, on your part. Recognize it as such and come back to earth.

You say you need love. The world is full of people who need it more than you do. Visit the children's ward in the hospital some day. Not all of these sick youngsters have people to love them. Why don't you fill in this form? Only by loving can we obtain love. Try it for awhile, then write me again and I'll bet your letter won't be so hopeless.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My daughter has a chum of 13, whose parents work, leaving the house in the care of a maid. All the girls in the neighborhood like to congregate in this house. Frequently there is trouble among the girls. I don't want my daughter to be there when the family is out. The maid is a shiftless creature who doesn't care what goes on. — Mrs. R. S.

Dear Mrs. R. S.: It would be much better if you invited the chum to your house. Try to break up the present gatherings. You are quite right to keep your child away from an unsupervised group. Groups of giggling girls are usually harmless — but you never can tell.

Dear Dorothy Dix: We are two 15-year-old girls who have grown up with a group of boys. Whenever we go places with them we pay our own way. Lately two of the boys have been asking us out but they make no move to pay our way. We think this comes under the heading of "ditching" and that it's the boy's obligation to pay. How can we straighten this out? — Betty and Wendy

Believes Sun Is Getting Brighter

PLACESTAR (AP) — For five years the sun has been getting brighter, says a team of Lowell Observatory astronomers. They said Monday the sun is 2 per cent brighter now than when they started a study five years ago.

Harold Johnson, head of the project, said the brightness probably moves in cycles and may decrease.

"But we are not sure now," he said. "Our studies will have to continue at least six more years for a definite answer."

The astronomers agreed there is no danger of the earth or other planets being reduced to ashes.

"But what if the brightness increases continually? In 50 years the sun will be twice as bright as now," one astronomer said.

What would that mean to mankind? "Don't ask me," Johnson said.

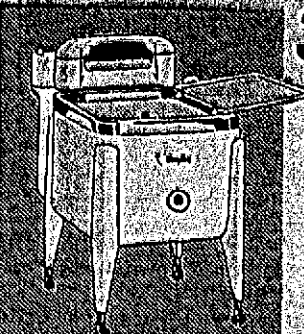

More brightness does not necessarily mean an increase in energy.

Either you agree to breaking up with him or you'll be ditched any how. Save face and graciously agree to giving him up.

Send your problem to DOROTHY DIX. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her care of this newspaper.

Jim Furlong explained his plan. Dawson, who had scouted the country west and south, was to lead the four pack horses to the pass between two mesas, south of where the Rio Felice incamp had been, before Furlong's riders had burned it.

There was a pocket off to one side of the pass at Dos Mesas. There Furlong would establish his camp. Dawson would travel to the spot by following the divide to Ike Rule's shack, then south through the Pot Holes, then east cabin, or Mace's tent. And it wasn't Empire's riders who murdered Ike Rule. It's the headquarters crew we've got to look at. Cleo Veto and his bunch.

"You mean we're going to jump 'em head-on — four of us against 15 or 20 of them?" Dawson demanded.

"Not head-on. Little by little but all the time. Night and day there'll always be two of us fusing at them one place or another. Maybe one will spook a bunch of pack steers while the other attacks attention by seasoning the cook's Dutch ovens with a few slugs, or runs off the ramuda. Each of those men will run north, one circling east eventually and the other west, back toward Dos Mesas. Then another pair will take up the molesting chore. You know what that will do to a roundup crew. It'll keep them off balance, day and night."

"They thought about it in silence. Finally Mace Gillum said, 'It spreads us pretty thin.'"

Bonanza Beal asked, "How'd you like two three more men?"

"Who?" Furlong asked.

"Fellers on the order of Ike Rule, who've been run off their places or got into trouble one way or another. Red Buford and Cal Frisbie over in the Pot Holes — Red Ingle, who was in cahoots with Ike on some stuff we won't talk about. Might be a couple more."

Buchanan Fyle, sporting a growth of sandy whiskers that hugely altered what had been a sensitive, scholarly face, asked, "Would their motives be the same as ours — to end Empire's intolerable domination?"

"Motives — phooey," Dawson muttered. "Bring them in."

"On one condition," Furlong said. "If they'll take orders."

"What a little fence does that make," Dawson demanded, "just so they're fighting Empire?"

"The difference between winning and losing," Furlong said quietly.

Mace nodded agreement. "Our best chance is an organized fight, and that means taking orders."

Furlong looked at Dawson. "Any objections, Clay?"

A grin ruffled Dawson's beard-masked cheeks, but there was a plain note of insolence in his voice as he asked, "Suppose I say yes?"

"You'd be out of it," Furlong said.

For a long moment while these two eyed one another in the stiff fashion of dogs with raised hackles, the silence ran on. Somewhere off to the south a coyote sent its dual toned howl across the moonlit brush, and night's chill crept close to the dying fire. Bonanza Beal got up and put a mesquite branch on the coals and said, "Weather feels like it's fixin' to change."

"There'll be skim ice on the Rio Felice one of these mornings," Clay Dawson predicted. Then he inquired casually, "What time we riding out tomorrow morning, Jim?"

It was his way of accepting defeat — an admission that he would take orders. (About three o'clock, which means we'll have to sleep fast.)

Afterward, when the others had turned in, Furlong and Beal sat by the fire, and Beal asked, "How's things with you and the Kimble filly?"

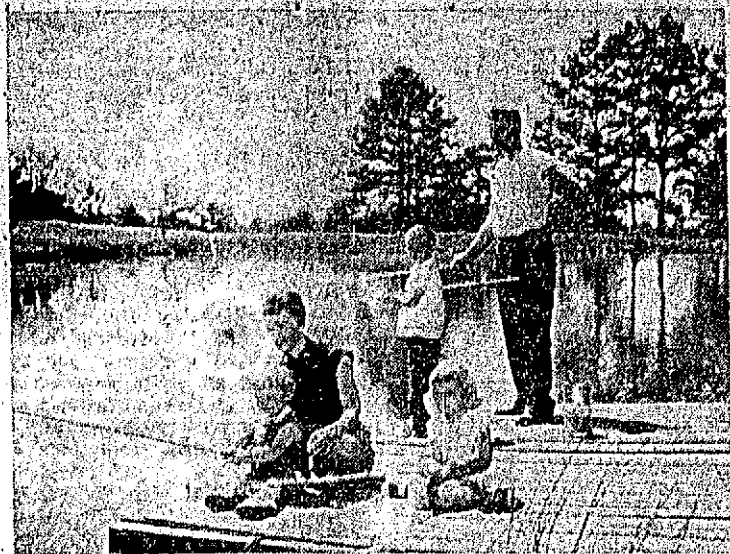

Furlong shrugged, not wanting to discuss Grace, nor to remember the circumstances of their last meeting.

"She make another try for you, like I said?"

"Yes," Furlong muttered. Thinking how it was, with Ike Rule dying while Grace talked, he added, "I'm through with her. All through."

That seemed to please Bonanza.

National Home Week May 3-10

— Star Photos & Engravings

MAY PRESENTS strong emphasis upon home and family activities with graduation and Mother's are given a special day of recognition. And National Home Week is observed from May 3-10. Many churches of this area are planning special family programs in observance of Home Week.

The home represents every stage of life with groups of individuals facing life together.

NEXT TO TOP: WORKING at the home is demonstrated by the Bob Turner family as they clean up the yard.

THE BOTTOM TWO photos again demonstrate the family that plays together stays together. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hankins and family prepare a barbecue supper in the bottom photo while the Cecil O'Steen family plays cards in the photo next to the bottom.

Smiling now he filled his pipe and asked, "How about Ben Lindstrom, Jim? There's one who would make a man disremember a long day's riding."

"She's spoken for," Furlong said quietly. "Mace Gillum."

They broke camp soon after three, Furlong helping with the packhorses until they were out of the canyon. Then he said, "I'll probably be at the pocket ahead of you boys," and rode eastward.

Mr. Truman Is Against 3rd Term Ban

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harry S. Truman said today the Constitution's ban on a third term sends a president into a second term "with one hand tied behind him."

"It makes no sense to treat a president this way — no matter who he is — Republican or Democrat," the former president told a Senate Judiciary subcommittee in one of his rare appearances before Congress.

Truman said the amendment which put the ban into the Constitution in 1951 "is a bad amendment and ought to be repealed."

He noted that he alone among 175 million Americans could be elected for a third term "if he could get the votes. This is because the amendment specifically exempted the man who was then president—Truman."

The amendment was submitted to the states by the Republican 80th Congress, and Truman said it was "ironic that the first lame duck president to be hamstringed by this amendment is one of the Republicans' own."

This was a reference to President Eisenhower.

"You don't have to be very smart to know that an officeholder who is not eligible for re-election loses a lot of influence," Truman said.

"So, what have you done? You've taken a man and put him in the hardest job in the world, and sent him out to fight our battles in a life and death struggle—and you've sent him out to fight with one hand tied behind him because everyone knows he can't

Castro Condemns Panama Invasion

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro of Cuba condemned today the invasion of Panama by a group of Cuban adventurers.

"We do not hesitate in condemning it because it was a mistake detrimental to the Cuban people and their revolution," Castro told a news conference.

No revolution would get Cuba's support, he added unless it was an uprising by the people.

Dillon Will Ask More Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—C. Douglas Dillon presents President Eisenhower's case for a $3,000,000 foreign aid program to the Senate today in his new role as the State Department's No. 2 man.

Dillon appears before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) said he would be given a warm welcome.

The Senate has not yet acted on Dillon's promotion, but Fulbright said Senate approval "is a foregone conclusion."

Eisenhower nominated Dillon last week to the No. 2 post vacated when Christian A. Herter was named to replace John Foster Dulles as secretary of state.

Fulbright said the committee will not waive for Dillon, as it run for re-election.

"If he isn't a good president, and you don't want to keep him, you don't have to re-elect him. There is a way to get rid of him and it does not require a constitutional amendment."

did for Herter, its rule requiring a six-day wait before holding hearings on diplomatic nominations.

"The circumstances are not the same," Fulbright said.

U. S. Ship Placed Under Quarantine

BRISBANE, Germany (AP)—German port authorities at Bremen have put the U.S. liner American under quarantine today after reports that smallpox might have broken out aboard.

Health officials said a quarantine order was issued shortly after midnight when authorities learned that one person had been isolated at the ship hospital as a smallpox suspect.

The 34,961-ton vessel, owned by the United States Lines, moored Sunday night at the Bremen port. New York via Southampton, England and Le Havre, France, with some 400 passengers, among them many American soldiers and dependents, and a crew of 800.

If bacteriological tests prove smallpox, the America will be held under quarantine at least two weeks. She was scheduled to leave York.

Largest Missile Thunders Aloft

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A blazing Titan ICBM, the newest and biggest punch in the U.S. missile arsenal, thundered aloft today on its fourth test flight in three months.

The spectacular blastoff, which came at 1:30 p.m. (EST), marked the first attempt to separate the two powerful stages of the 90-foot rocket in flight. After it roared some 300 miles over the Atlantic.

After about two minutes, a tiny flash of light was seen as the missile, racing toward the east, then it puffed out. This indicated that the separation attempt apparently was successful.

As in the three previously highly successful Titan tests, the 37-foot second stage rocket was a dummy loaded with water for ballast. Once the separation occurred, the two sections of the missile would plunge into the depths.

Straus Gets a Plug From the President

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today that a low point will be reached in personal antagonisms that defeat the nomination for Lewis Straus as secretary of commerce.

Eisenhower told the news conference that he regards Straus, former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, as a valuable public servant who has the ability to do the job.

Straus' appointment has been under attack by some Democratic senators. Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-MN) Monday accused Straus of being "unqualified (as secretary of commerce) to head the AEC."

Straus said he would withhold his rebuttal until Anderson completed his testimony before the Senate Commerce Committee now considering the cabinet nomination.

Dusters Putting Spice Into the Nat'l Loop Play

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Brush back, pitches and dusters now are selling the hot National League pennant scramble that has seen the lead change hands three times in three days.

San Francisco and Cincinnati grabbed in one of the double headed duels Monday night as the Giants put across four ninth-inning home runs to take a 6-5 victory. That hot lead the Giants took into the lead, but a mere .009 percentage points over Los Angeles.

Los Angeles closed in by dropping Milwaukee from first to third with a 5-3 victory over the Braves and southpaw Warren Spahn, who the Dodgers always trump.

Pittsburgh reached 500 for the first time and took fifth place from Chicago by beating the Cubs 2-1 in the only NL game scheduled.

The Pirates were shut out on three hits by rookie Bob Anderson before they scored their two in the eighth. Dick Groat's double and singles by pinch-hitter Rocky Nelson and Bob Clemente handed Anderson his first defeat in three decisions. Ron Kline (2-1) won it, giving up but four hits and blanking the Cubs until Jim Marshall unloaded his first home run in the seventh.

plunked on the leg in the eighth inning by winning reliever Gord Jones. Manager Bill Rigney of the Giants was banished for arguing the call that waved Purkey to first base.

Just Sunday, St. Louis and Pittsburgh jawed at each other over pitching tactics. Earlier, the Reds' Frank Robinson found Bill Burgh's Bob Friend and George Will unusually wild.

Purkey, the right-hander, who ran up a 6-0 string against the Giants from 1955 to last August, had a 3-2 lead going into the ninth. Then a three-run double by Jim Davenport and Willie Kirkland's RBI single made it 6-3. Bud Worthington, replacing Jones, gave up two runs in the Red ninth before Jack Sanford hurried in to get the final out.

Cliff Hogue, part of the old guard right-handed power, this made Sahn a seldom-started against the Dodgers, was 4-for-4 at Milwaukee and all were for extra bases—two doubles and a pair of solo home runs.

Don Demeter, one of the Dodgers' new generation of right-handed batters, broke a 2-2 tie and wrapped it up with two-run homer in the seventh. Southpaw Johnny Podres gained a 3-2 season record with Art Fowler's relief in the ninth.

The Pirates were shut out on three hits by rookie Bob Anderson before they scored their two in the eighth. Dick Groat's double and singles by pinch-hitter Rocky Nelson and Bob Clemente handed Anderson his first defeat in three decisions. Ron Kline (2-1) won it, giving up but four hits and blanking the Cubs until Jim Marshall unloaded his first home run in the seventh.

Maybe Casey Was Right, Al Is Stronger?

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Maybe the question isn't "what's with the New York Yankees?" but "What goes with the American League?"

Could be that Yankee Manager Casey Stengel had the answer long ago. At a loss to explain the slump of his world champions, who are seventh, 8½ games out of first place after losing 9 of their last 10, Casey diagnosed the AL before the symptoms appeared.

Even last winter Stengel warned, his champs that the league had become stronger. The standings show the proof of his prodding.

Who's first? The Cleveland Indians at 13½. They had to play 27 games last season before they won 13. They finished fourth, nailing that last first division berth on the final day of the season.

Baltimore's Orioles and the Chicago White Sox are tied for second, each at 11½. Fourth? Kansas City. And who's first? The long lost Washington Senators, who have the best record (5-2) among the Eastern clubs on their present trek through the West.

That leaves Boston (8-9), sixth. The Yankees (7-12) seventh and Detroit (4-13) last.

Kansas City blew a chance to take sole possession of 2nd place Monday, losing 8-4 to Boston in the only game scheduled in the AL.

In the National League, San Francisco defeated Cincinnati 6-0 and gained a slim (.009) percentage point lead over Los Angeles as the Dodgers sent Milwaukee to third 5-3. Pittsburgh defeated the Chicago Cubs 2-1 in the only other game scheduled.

Kansas City blew a first-inning 3-0 lead against the Red Sox. Dick Gernert, 4-for-5, doubled home the tying run and scored Boston's lead run on Sammy Whites single in a two-run sixth. Then Gernert hit a two-run double in the eighth, and Jackie Jensen's fifth homer counted two in the ninth.

Bill Monbouquette (1-0) won it with 6 2-3 innings of three-hit relief after replacing starter Frank Baumann and getting out of a bases-loaded, none-out jam in the second.

He said the NBA would recognize the Fuller-Basilio winner, Syracuse promoter Norm Roth, child said he had signed both of these top contenders and exchanged for Syracuse in the summer. Robinson had been warned several times by the NBA that he was long overdue to risk his title under the six-month defense rule.

New York, which is not a member of the NBA, has given the dapper Harlem businessman until May 15 to sign for a title fight with Basilio.

Robinson moaned that the NBA has "dealt me a foul blow. They can have their own champion and do what they want about it. But I'm not retiring."

He indicated he still may fight German-born Gustav Scholz, the European champion, and possibly in Europe. The New York Athletic Commission, in taking its action against Sugar Ray, ruled Scholz was not a fit opponent at this time. The German is ranked as the No. 4 contender.

If Robinson does fight Scholz, he undoubtedly would have killed him as world champion in Europe at least.

Yank Players Have Their Own Ideas

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Yankees aren't the Yankees, and everyone is wondering what has happened to the erstwhile scourge of the American League.

Casey Stengel's New Yorkers have lost 9 of their last 10 games. Stengel has his own version of what is wrong.

"We ain't hitting," said the club's field boss today. "They're pitching us low and we're fishing for the ball. Our pitching staff ain't dead."

The players have their own ideas. "The club is tight," says the veteran Enos Slaughter. "We have too many serious guys here."

"We've been playing in a lot of tough luck, and we're not hitting," says Mickey Vernon. "It is the same club that won the pennant and world championship last year. In fact, it is the same club that has been holding forth at Yankee Stadium the last two years."

It has been suggested that that is what is wrong. Other clubs have been catching up, particularly in pitching, while the champions have been standing still.

Whether that means a sudden change in the Yankee roster is a question, Stengel insists he will not part with any of his players, but George Weiss, the general manager, made a abrupt trip last Sunday, and that could mean action on the trade front.

Leiss said in Detroit, when asked about trade possibilities, that it was too early to tell.

In New York co-owner Dan Toppling belittled the idea that something was radically wrong with the club.

"Everybody's worried, but us," he said.

But the Yankees are worried. And others recalling that the last two months of the 1958 season the club was anything but a ball of fire, suggest that the club started to slip then, and that the New Yorkers have had it.

Members of the NBA's executive committee were polled and voted unanimously to strip Robinson of his title.

Sugar Ray, hasn't fought since he regained the middleweight crown from Basilio in Chicago, March 25, 1958.

"Robinson has failed to keep his agreement with the NBA to defend his title," said Dr. Wylie in Mullens, W.Va.

He said the NBA would recognize the Fuller-Basilio winner, Syracuse promoter Norm Roth, child said he had signed both of these top contenders and exchanged for Syracuse in the summer.

Robinson had been warned several times by the NBA that he was long overdue to risk his title under the six-month defense rule.

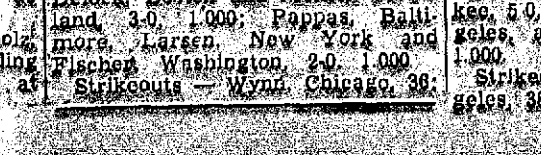

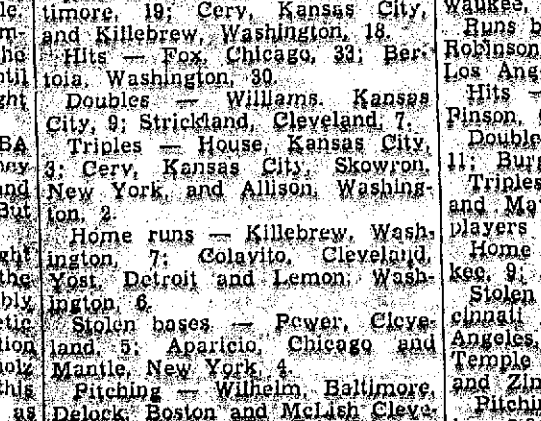

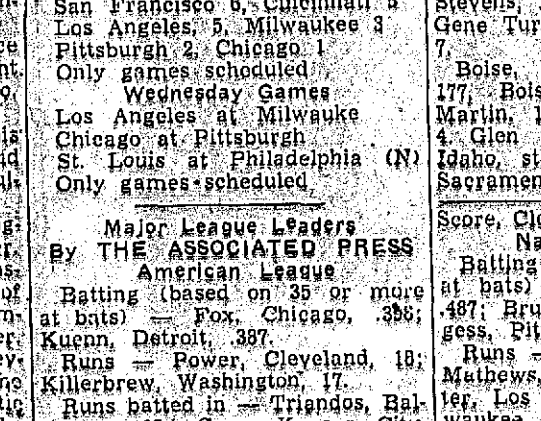

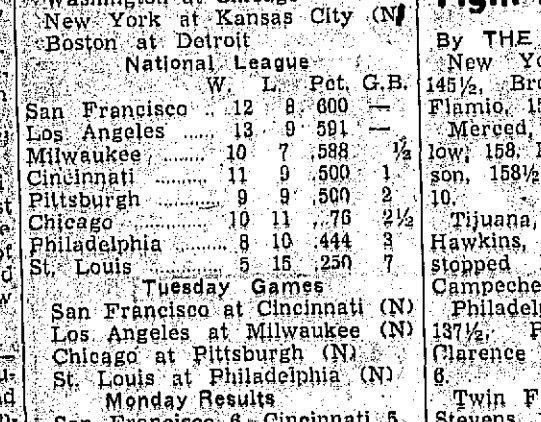

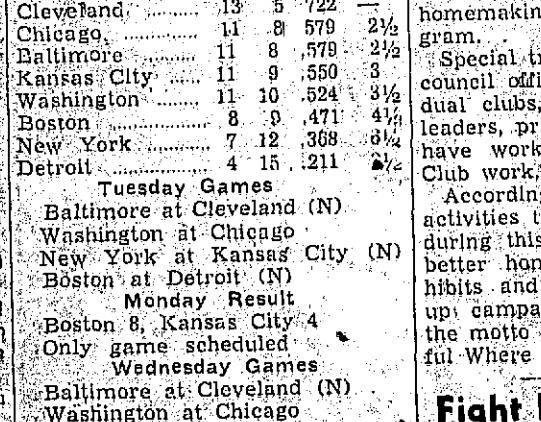

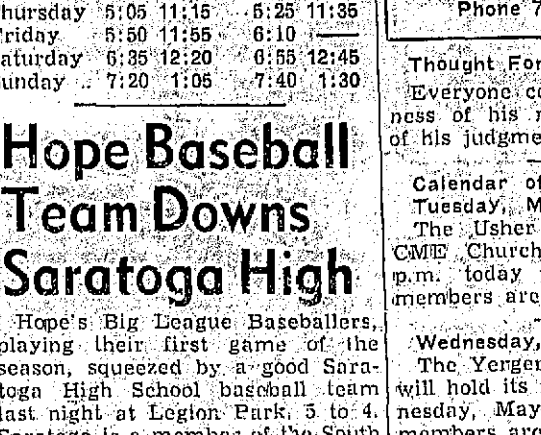

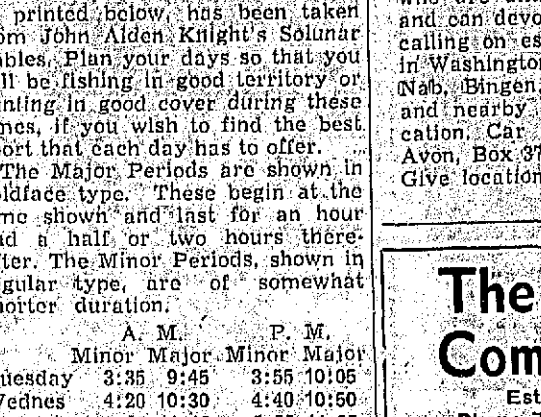

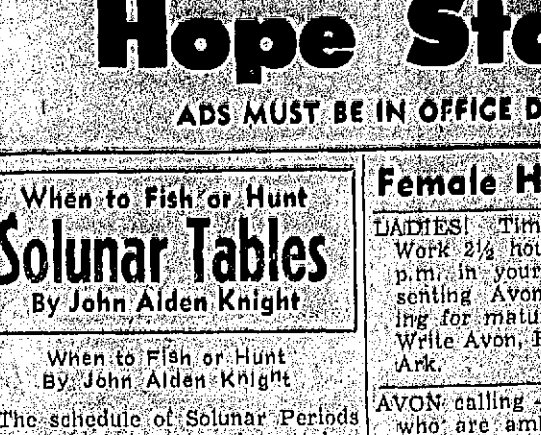

New York, which is not a member of the NBA, has given the dapper Harlem businessman until May 15 to sign for a title fight with Basilio.

Robinson moaned that the NBA has "dealt me a foul blow. They can have their own champion and do what they want about it. But I'm not retiring."

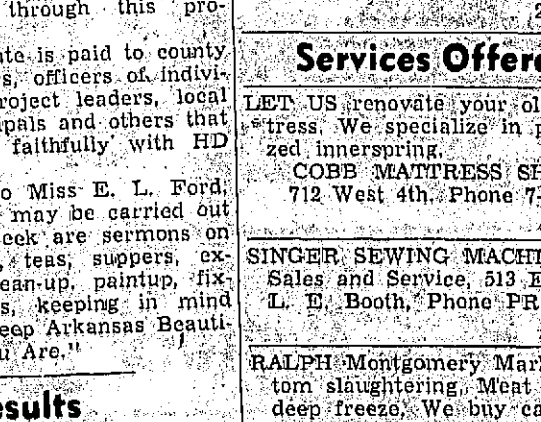

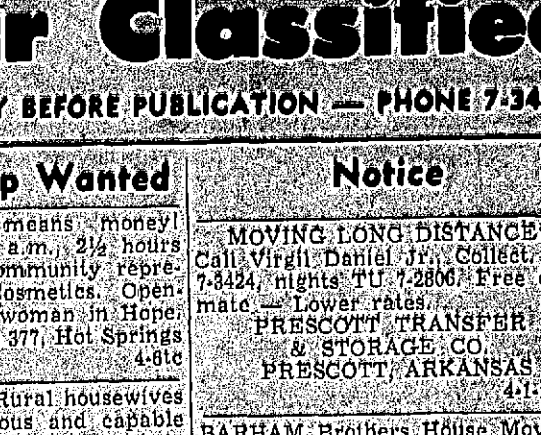

He indicated he still may fight German-born Gustav Scholz, the European champion, and possibly in Europe. The New York Athletic Commission, in taking its action against Sugar Ray, ruled Scholz was not a fit opponent at this time. The German is ranked as the No. 4 contender.

If Robinson does fight Scholz, he undoubtedly would have killed him as world champion in Europe at least.
